NEW Buckwhoat, in longs, for sale by R. S. BARKER, 163 Thamos-st.

One of our Justices of the Peace was called vesterday afternoon, to go to a German house in the city and marry a couple. Putting on a clean coller and putting of marriage certificate in his pocket, he started for the festive scene. Arrive at the ionse under the direction of a blue-legg of fittle boy, who pointed out the place, he knocked and went in. In the middle of the floor and went in. In the middle of the loor stood a stout German girl, sorry and plump, her blue eyes rolling out tears as large as butter pats. "What's the matter?" said the sympathetic Justice. "Matter," said the girl, "Dat Gotleib wend off, and wouldn't marry me, aint it?" The Justice said he supposed it was, and intimated that he had come to marry some one and requested the Justice was growing impatient. Just then Katarina looked out of the window and saw Katarina looked out of the window and say a short and thick young German going by, when she rushed to the door and halloood, "Fritz.—Fritz!" Fritz shortly made his appearance at the door, when Katarina's mother said, "Fritz, you lofs mine Katarina!" Fritz allowed he did, more as sauer-kroat. "Then stand up here," thundered the Justice, and before Fritz could realize his position, he was a man and wife, and Katarina. nition, he was a man and wife, and Kata-ine's arms were around his neck, and her lips pressed to his, she crying between the calisthenics, "mein husband—mein Fritz;" Our duty as a correct historian compels us o sny that Fritz hugged back as well as he to say that Fritz hugged back as well as he knew how. The Justice, with head erect, stepped smilingly out, leaving the lovers to themselves, and walked away meditatively, a holy calm stealing all over his massive proportions, the consciousness of having, done his duly elements. done his duty gleaming in his eye, and honor, honesty and rectitude in his footstep-

On Friday night, says an English paper, a large cat, belonging to the station master at Halewood, near Warrington, attempted to cross the line as an engine was passing at a good speed. War Ships in the Senate.

The naval committee of the U. S. Sen ate have reported a bill in that body for "the immediate construction of ten propeller sloops of war"-to cost nobody know how much mon-y, and to be of about as much use so far as any real wants of the country are concerned, as the addition of a fifth wheel would be to a coach.

We presume this old fogy Senate com mittee have quite forgotten the fact, that the government has not so much as a three-cent piece in money of its own, to lay out in ship-building or anything else, Though they severally helped, at the last session, to authorize two Twenty Million loans, to keep the wheels of the government in motion, these " potent, grave, and reverend seignors" seem to have become strangely oblivious of the fact, and are now running off with the idea that " Uncle Sam' is made of money, and is fairly aching to find some good opportunity of throwing away a few extra millions, just for the fun of it.

There is not we suppose, the slightest hope that any of the fossil Senators on this carel committee could be induced to vote for the immediate construction of the Pacific Railroad, certainly not by any reasonable route, If they go for it at all, it will either be on some wholly impracticable plan, or involving some ten or a dozen years of still further delay; or possibly for the extreme southerly location, as that is supposed to be the shortest one of all, but not near so short as the business and receipts of the road would be, so far away from the great centre of population, wealth and enterprise of the Atlantic States. .

But, will the government really, under existing circumstances, undertake the construction of these ten propeller sloops of war?-Little as we expect from its prudence and economy, we do not believe it .-The ten to fitteen millions per annum regularly spent upon what is called our Nuvy, is fully one-half wasted-numerous U. S. ships of war, commenced ten, fifteen or twenty years ago, are still lying unfinished and useless, though untold thousands have been spent upon them-and the folly of now engaging the construction of so large a batch of new vessels, when there is no earthly need of them and the government overwhelmed with debt, is too grievous to expect of anybody outside of Bedlam.

XXXVIII CONGRESS. SECOND SESSION.

Religious. Whatever may be thought and said of the present state of religious feeling in this city, there has been no time for several months when meetings for Divine worship were more fully attended than now. The vestry of Rev. Dr. Jackson's Church was literally crowded last Sabbath evening, on the occasion of the regular Sabbath evening prayer meeting; and on inquiry we learn that the case was the same in all the churches where service was held. Andwe note the fact with particular gratification-of all the young men who attend these meetings, very few indeed conduct themselves in any way objectionable, and we trust all are more or less benefitted.

The Prayer meetings of the Newport Christian Association continue to be holden in Music Hall with gratifying success. The hour of meeting is from 5 3-4 to 6 3-4 o'clock. Here sectarian differences are ignored, and all Christians, of whatever name, assemble on the same platform to worship their common Lard.

The Monthly Union Prayer Meeting for young men was held in the vestry of Rev. Dr. Jackson's church vestry Monday evening. Owing to the inclement weather there were but a few persons present. The meeting, however, was a very lively one and conducted with a great degree of spirit. These meetings are doing much towards breaking down the ugly walls of sectarianism and uniting the great Christian family, as they should be, in one universal brother-

REAL ESTATE TRANSSCTIONS .- Alfred Smith, Esq., real estate broker, sold, yesterday morning, the elegant residence of the late Samuel Nickerson, on Narragansett Avenue, to John Carey, Jr., of New York. The price was $18,000.

Mr. Smith informs us that up to vester day morning there had been thirty-one cottages rented for the next sesson. The same date last year the number was only five, while on the 1st of March the number was only eleven. This augurs well for the sesson of 1869.

THE COLD WEATHER .-- The weather took 'a new wrinkle," yesterday. Starting with the thermometer ten degrees below zero at 6 o'clock, A.M., it moderated till the mercury indicated six degrees above, where it remained most of the day. About noon it commenced snowing, with a light wind from the north-east, and snowed up to 10 o'clock. What will be the next act in the programme remains to be seen.

THE WEATHER MONDAY NIGHT .- Some doubt having been expressed in regard to the correctness of our statement that the thermometer fadicated 10 degrees below zero Monday night, we will state that the fact was ascertained from a thermometer times during the evening, with the same of Dunbury.

SEATING .- The water in this vicinity congealed rapidly under the influence of the cold weather of Monday and yesterday. The cove north of Long Wharf was nozen over "etark and stiff" yesterday morning. The boys were not long in finding out that it "would bear," and by noon the ice was pretty well covered with energetic skaters We shouldn't wonder il there were some trunnts from school yesterday alternoon.

Encountered large fields of drift ice all the way from Bristol to the south end of Prudence. There was no communication with Provdence Jesterday by water. The Bradford Durfes, from Fall River, which cot her way up ahead of the Perry Monday, was cut nearly through by the ice. Should the weather moderate, the Perry will probably be able to push through to Providence in a day or

No permanent ice to obstruct navigation was formed in our harbor Monday nights; though the surface of the water was covered with a porridge like accumulation of frozen particles, an inch or more in thick ness, which in a few hours, would have congealed to hard ice. All the vessels at anchor were more or less covered with the consealed element.

The St. Albans Messenger says that Mr. George W. Blake, of Fairfax, returned evening 29th ult., and placed his gun, which was loaded, in a corner near the fire to dry. Mrs. Blake accidentally knocked the gun down, which caused a discharge, lodging the contents in one of her feet, mangling it in a dreadful manner. The limb was amputated the next morning, but Mrs. B. died on Monday.

The Kentucky State Convention on Saturday adopted a platform endorsing the Cincinnati platform, and the Dred Scott decision, encouraging the acquisition of Cuba, denouncing sectional agitation in the North, and Know Nothingism, endorsing the Administration, and proposing that the determination of their differences upon minor and unessential points; such as Kansus and Lecomptonism, shall not be permitted to disturb the harmony of the Democracy of Kentucky. The great feature of the Convention was the triumph of the Breckenridge interest over the Boyd party, the zealous supporters of the Lecompton policy of the Administration. ...

A BEAUTIFUL CUSTOM. Several months ago it was proposed that on the first Sunday of every year all the Christian congregations by whom the English language was spoken should unit in anging the son-orous choral, "Old Hundred," to the words of Watta? we I-known hymn,

"Jesus shall reign whereo'r the sun." Consequently last Sunday this hymn was aung in our city churches, and as the notice had been very extensively circulated, it is probable that most all the Prostestant congregations in America, England and Australia joined in this chorus. - New York Luching Post.

Capt. Morris then called all the men aft and told them to look out for themselves, as he should go down with the ship. She soon had every appear ance of sinking.

The sinp had six boats, three of which were stove by the drifting spars about the deck, two were stove alongside, and the sixth was launched in safety. Five of the crew jumped into her; but she was capsized alon after by a heavy sea. Four of the men got on her bottom, and the fifth (the man that the same terms to the same form that this got on her bottom, and the lift! which ared) caught a rope hanging from the ship, and haused himself on board again. He then stripped off part of his clothes, and swam to the ship's house, which had become detached from the wreek.
